

OBITUARY HAROLD C. JOHNSON, Jr.

Harold C. Johnson, Jr. died on June 1, 2016 at his home in Harwich, Massachusetts after a brief illness. He is survived by his wife Maribel, two children and a grandchild.

Harry had a productive and satisfying career as an insurance underwriter with Home Life Insurance Company. He and his family lived for many years in Chatham, New Jersey, enjoying frequent vacations on Cape Cod. When he retired in 1996 the family moved full-time to the Cape, settling in Harwich. Harry spent his retirement years there, enjoying the out-doors as an avid walker, swimmer, kayaker and golfer. Besides being ardent New York Yankees fans he and Maribel were regulars at Cape Cod League baseball games, rooting for the Harwich Mariners.

His church was at the center of Harry's life. In college he was active in the Dartmouth Christian Fellowship. In Chatham and Harwich he and Maribel were contributive church members, regularly serving meals to nursing home residents, among other activities. Other interests included the Boy Scouts and the Chatham Creative Arts Center.

After graduation from Dartmouth Harry served in the U.S. Army as a 2nd Lieutenant and earned an MBA degree from New York University.
