son of John The Phelan. He atter Mass., and at Da Alpha Tau Omega to Elizabeth Gou Richard G. and Mary E.

He went to work with Montgomery Ward in 1929 and up to 1950 had served in seven different communities. At that time, he was store manager in Raleigh, N. C., and director of the Merchants Bureau in that city. Unhappily, there has been no further word from him since the 25th Reunion Report was issued and even his address was unknown at the time of his death. If any who knew him well have further information covering these last five years, it will be gratefully received, so that his memory may at least be served by a full record of his life.

A report has been received that LLOYD CHESTER HARRIS died on August 27, 1954. He withdrew from college early in freshman year and subsequently graduated from Middlebury. He was married in 1929 to Aurela Haines, and his latest address of record (1950) was Rochester, Minn. He was at that time advertising manager for the Journal Publishing Co. of Waseca, Minn.

John had reached his fiftieth birthday only two days before his death, having been born in Chicago, Ill., March 22, 1905. He was the son of Augustus and Elizabeth (Glenn) Hartigan.

He entered Dartmouth after graduating from Phillips Academy, Andover. He left College at the end of his sophomore year. As an undergraduate he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

John married Katharine Hooper soon after leaving college and had two daughters, Elizabeth Jane and Mary Sue. All survive him.

1928

GEORGE CURTIS BIRD died from a heart ailment May 23 at his home in Los Angeles. He was born in Chicago, May 21, 1906.

Curt was a member of Sigma Chi at Dartmouth. He left college in his junior year and for the next five years was in the automobile business with his father's firm, Bird-Sykes Co., in Chicago. Then he moved to Los Angeles and formed a radio transcriptions business. At his death he was an automobile salesman.

He is survived by his mother, a son, G. C. Bird Jr., and a sister, Mrs. G. L. Perisse Jr., 110 N. Oak Park Ave., Oak Park, Ill.

ROY FREDOF MARTIN died in a hospital in Toronto, Canada, on September 17, two weeks after being admitted.

Ray had been living in Huntsville, Ala., where he was employed by the Army Quartermaster Corps. He was visiting his wife's family in Toronto when he was taken ill.

Roy was born in Ansonia, Conn., January 8, 1907, and entered Dartmouth from Ansonia high school. After graduation he worked for the Chase National Bank in New York for nine years, then was president for several years of Martin, Hefler & Robbins, Inc., 40 Wall St., dealers in inactive and obsolete securities. Since the war he had worked for the government in Washington until last May.

He is survived by his second wife, the former Gwen Reid MacGregor, and a brother, George Martin, of Derby, Conn.

GEORGE WILLIAM DENISON died on September 27, ten days after he had entered a Boston Hospital.

George was born in Chelsea, Mass., on August 11, 1909. He completed his freshman year at Dartmouth and transferred to M.I.T. Most of his business life was spent with the Theis Dyeing Co. of West Warwick, R. I.

George is survived by his wife, Dorothy (Wood) Denison and two daughters, Brenda and Nancy. Private funeral services were held from the family home at 601 Morton St., Stoughton, Mass.

BRUCE NEVIN CARSON was killed in an automobile accident near Colorado Springs on August 27. Bruce was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nevin Carson, of the Class of 1923. Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife Perry living at 939 So. Corona St., Denver, Colo., and a son born in April.

After completing his freshman year at Dartmouth, Bruce entered Colorado College, where he graduated in 1951. He returned to Tuck School for one year, and at the time of his death was in the Air Force. We are all deeply sorry to lose a loyal Dartmouth alumnus and a good friend.
