LLOYD R. WILLIAMS died October 6, 1977, after a long period of ill-health resulting from a blood clot in the brain which was discovered last winter and which had necessitated his retirement from Consolidated Edison.

After Dartmouth Lloyd attended Harvard Graduate School of Education and taught school briefly in Kansas City, Mo. There followed positions in the field of personnel and sales and executive training with TWA, Burlington Mills, Diamond Match Company, International Paper Company, and Union Bag-Camp Paper Company preceding his association with Consolidated Edison in New York City.

Lloyd married Judy Stewart in 1943, and they have a son, James S., born in 1953. Following Judy's death in 1958 after a long illness, Lloyd married Mini Zehinder of Zurich, Switzerland, and New York City.

Classmates will be saddened to learn of the untimely death of SCHUYLER F. CROSS in Denver on April 30 following a prolonged post-operative illness.

After graduation from Tuck in 1947, Sky worked for Chase Bank in New York City, had a tour of duty with the Air Force, and then in 1953 moved to Denver to begin a life-long career in the insurance industry. At the time he became seriously ill, he was president and director of Harlan, Inc., a general insurance and surety company. Over the years he has been active in many community affairs, an avid skier, and a faithful supporter of the College as an officer of the Alumni Association of the Great Divide, job placement chairman, and most recently, career adviser.

He is survived by his widow Melba, their four children, including Jeffery '79, and by his brother Malcolm '40.

CHARLES DAVID VANDERHOOF died suddenly at his home in Cleveland Heights, Ohio, on March 31, 1978. He was 50 years old at the time of his death, and leaves his wife Gretchen and two daughters, Heidi and Melanie.

Dave graduated from University School in Shaker Heights prior to entering Dartmouth. He was a member of Theta Chi and active in WBDS and Ledyard Canoe Club. He served in the Army during the Korean war, where he administered psychological tests to prisoners of war. Following his graduation from Dartmouth, he worked for A. L. Vanderhoof, Inc., which is owned by his father. For the past 18 years, he had been employed by H. B. Smith Company.

CHARLES O. HOBAN was struck by a car in Lake Forest, Ill., in January of this year. Chuck entered Dartmouth from New Trier High School in Glencoe, Illinois. While at Dartmouth he played football and was a member of Phi Kappa Psi. Chuck did not graduate from Dartmouth and little is known of him after he left the College. He is survived by his brother Edward Hoban '54.
