

OBITUARY NED HUNT

Edmund F. "Ned" Hunt died on July 21, 2015 at the Cleveland Clinic. His life was summed up by admiring friends as one of devotion to family, giving back to the communities in which he lived, and remarkable success and contribution in his business career.

Ned loved Dartmouth! As an undergraduate he was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, Dragon senior society, Green Key and the Inter-Dormitory Council. He went on to earn a master's degree from the Tuck School of Business.

His career included senior roles in personnel management at Pitney Bowes Inc. and Resistoflex, leading to the presidency of Zallea Brothers in Delaware where he spent 14 productive years. When that company was acquired he moved to Plantation, Florida where he started and built a successful printing company. Ned sold the business in 2005 and moved to Buffalo to be near his children and grandchildren.

He was a "people person!" His family recalls Ned's successful conversion of a group of inner city teenagers who were vandalizing Zallea's plant into an elite security team.

Wherever he lived, Ned was a community leader and contributor. Among organizations to which he devoted his energies were chambers of commerce, Kiwanis International, and the Boy Scouts. He was a fixture as Santa Claus at company and community holiday celebrations.

Ned's life was his family, including his wife of 61 years, Patricia; 3 children, including a son Edmund "Ted" Hunt Jr, Dartmouth '77; and 8 grandchildren.
