

Obituary DOUGLAS S. JOHNSTON

Douglas S. Johnston died on November 27, 2011. He attended Dartmouth for two years following service as a yeoman second class in the U.S. Navy. He went on to a career in sales of industrial sewing thread, based for more than thirty years in the greater Nashville, Tennessee area.

Doug was active in the American Legion and was commander of his post in Tennessee. He also served as president of the Exchange Club in Brentwood, Tennessee, an organization working to make the community a better place to live through a wide variety of service programs. He was an active tennis player, hiker and swimmer.