

10 MILES FROM DOWNTOWN HANOVER

In 1790 Benjamin Wood and his son Ephraim built a tavern at the four corners of the Croydon Turnpike and the Old King's Highway. Known for its fine victuals, hearty spirits and lively entertainment, the Ben Wood Tavern served the travellers of New England for many generations. It is now a private home with most of the original features intact. Wide board floors of ash and pine, hand-hewn beams and hand-stenciled original plaster pay testament to the care with which Ben Wood constructed this traveler's refuge.

Now all that is needed is the caring hand of an artisan to restore this once-proud product of colonial craftsmanship.

Currently offered for sale with 240 acres of field and woodland having 3,000 feet of road frontage at a price of $225,000 exclusively BY

ROBERT B. MAC DONNELL
REALTOR

26 South Main Street,
Hanover, New Hampshire
603-643-4143

Hickory Ridge, Norwich, Vermont
802-649-1243

ADVENTURES IN TRAVEL
for discriminating travellers

*

TWENTY-ONE PROGRAMS ON FIVE CONTINENTS

*

Over ten years experience in overseas programming
for cultural learning

*

CALL OR WRITE:
Office of International Studies, Box A
Kean College of New Jersey
Union, NJ 07083 • 201-527-2166

TRAVELER

the Eastman Kodak Co. employed until his death. His contribution to Kodak that project on which he has decided that, since no one else would carry on in the same way, it was still there.

Within the community, he helped to restore the Rochester Oratorio Society as a thriving organization, and, in addition to singing with the society until the year of his death, he served as general manager and chaired the board. In 1955 he was a prime mover in the establishment of the Rochester Bach Festival which is performed yearly.

Carl is survived by his wife Elizabeth, three children, three stepchildren, and his ex-wife, Nancy Schermerhorn Struever of Baltimore, Md. We'll miss you, Carl.

1951

JOHN MILLER McINTYRE passed away at his home on July 19 after a long bout with cancer.

Jock was president and chief executive officer of the Meriden-Wallingford Hospital and resided in Cheshire, Conn.

Born in 1929 in Randolph, Vt., he graduated from high school in 1947 in Honolulu, Hawaii. At Dartmouth, Jock received a varsity letter in swimming, was captain of the 1950-51 team, and was on the all-American swimming team in 1949, 1950, and 1951. He was also a member of Green Key, Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, Sphinx, and the Interfraternity Council. After graduating, Jock received his master's degree in hospital administration at the University of Chicago in 1956, serving his administrative residency at the Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester, N.Y.

Following his residency, he was appointed administrative assistant at Strong from 1956 to 1960 and then became assistant director at Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore. Jock was appointed associate administrator at Meriden-Wallingford in 1967. The following year he was named administrator, and, subsequently, president.

Jock served in the U.S. Army Medical Corps from 1951 to 1953 and was discharged from the reserves in 1963 with the rank of captain. He was a communicant of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Cheshire.

Further personal commentary on Jock is included in the 1951 column in this issue.

Besides his wife Charlotte, he is survived by two daughters.

1952

RAYMOND CHARLES SMITH died of cancer on August 18 in Hanover. Born in Portsmouth, N.H., Ray entered Dartmouth with the class of 1952. Following his junior year, he left Dartmouth to finance his senior year by working. Although he graduated with the class of 1953, Ray was a proud member of 1952.

John M McIntyre
7-16-82

becoming the agency manager for Vermont. Although Allstate preferred to have their managers to reside in their territories, Ray and Madge and the children settled near Hanover in Etna.

Ray was proud of his children — James who graduated from the Air Force Academy and is in Okinawa, Japan; Karen, at the University of N.H.; and Gail, who is at home.

Always involved in extracurricular affairs, Ray was publicity chairman of the American Cancer Society, Grafton County Committee; a member of the Richmond School Drug and Alcohol Parents' Association; a member of the Upper Valley Dartmouth Alumni Association; and president of the Air Force Academy Parents' Association of New Hampshire.

In addition to Madge, Ray is survived by the three children and also by his mother.

1953

CHARLES TAGLIABUE HAPGOOD JR. was an architect who designed most of the schools in the Shoreham and Port Jefferson areas of Long Island. He died July 18 in the local hospital.

Tony came to Dartmouth from the Lawrenceville School and went on after a few years at Dartmouth to graduate from Carnegie-Mellon University in Pittsburgh.

In addition to designing over 300 schools, he was an avid sailor.

He is survived by three children; his parents; a brother, John Russell Hapgood '55; and a sister.

DAVID ATKINSON WALKER died May 7 in San Francisco from a heart attack.

Dave was the fourth generation of his family to come to Dartmouth. His great-grandfather was Augustus Walker, 1862; his grandfather was Sidney Walker '91; his father, Hastings Walker '21; and his brother, Richard Walker '56.

He came to Dartmouth from Punahou High School. He had intended to become a marine biologist, but his interests changed and he received a degree in English, with a minor in fine arts. He also was in the Glee Club. After graduation, he attended the Boston Museum of Fine Arts; traveled around the world; taught for several years in Boston; and was an artist in both painting and sculpturing. He was a partner in the Sandwich Island Trading Company, which dealt in primitive art and was the founder of the International Child Art Center in San Francisco.

Dave is survived by his father and brother.

1966

It is with sadness that I report the passing of KIRK JAMES DITZLER on March 21. While enjoying his love for the out-of-doors at Point Reyes, Calif., he suffered a heart attack. He was 37. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ditzler of Sea Ranch, Calif.

Kirk came to Dartmouth from Walter John-