RICHARD H. ROGERS died in Scottsdale, Ariz., on December 12.

Born in Hudson, Ohio, Dick prepared for Dartmouth at Western Reserve Academy. At Dartmouth he lettered in soccer and swimming and was a member of Dragon and Theta Delta Chi.

In 1952 he received an M.C.S. degree from Tuck School, following which he married Greta Carlquist.

From 1952 to 1955 Dick served as an officer in the Navy. After discharge he worked for the St. Regis Container Corp. In 1958 he joined the McClean Hunter Publishing Company, then in 1960 Dick went to work for McGraw Hill Publications, becoming district manager for advertising sales. The family moved to Scottsdale, Ariz., in 1973 to help relieve his wife's asthma. Dick took a position with Information Handling Services, an Indian Head Company — the largest publisher of microfilmed technical information and library systems. Dick was very involved in the company's work with the government.

Dick is survived by his wife Greta and four daughters. The deepest sympathy of the Class is extended to members of the family.

It is my sad duty to report the recent death of LAWRENCE A. ADELMAN. Larry had been suffering from cancer for approximately 18 months, and on January 24 he died peacefully in his sleep. A native of Newton, Mass., he graduated from Newton South High School in 1969 and entered Dartmouth that fall.
While at College he was an announcer for WDCR and a reporter for The Dartmouth. He was intensely committed to the anti-war movement and was twice arrested in demonstrations during the spring of 1970.
Following graduation he worked as a reporter for the Middletown (Conn.) Press until the fall of 1975, when he entered Boston College Law School. He completed a year of classes and then withdrew the following fall as the cancer undermined his strength.

Larry was a person of tremendous strength, honesty, generosity, and goodness. As his body succumbed to the ravages of cancer, his will remained unbroken and indomitable. He pushed himself to the limit, and he remained passionately involved in the world and in people. He was an enthusiastic participant in a support group for cancer victims and their families. Larry's spirit sustained not only himself but also his friends.

Larry's illness drastically reordered his whole life, forcing him to abandon all long-term plans and to concentrate instead on making each day as full and satisfying and beautiful as possible. He lived his last year doing just that, and in so doing he served as an inspiration of courage and dignity to those around him.
Even now that he is dead, the beauty and courage remain.
