

STUART THOMPSON DANIELS died September 7, 1967 of a heart attack. He is survived by his wife Constance, son Richard, and daughter Sharon.

Stu and his family lived at 100 Wyckoff Ave., Wyckoff, N. J. He was most recently president of Fletcher, Daniels & Co., an advertising agency in Midland Park, N. J. He was previously an account executive with Union Bag & Paper Corp. in New York City.

Stu entered Dartmouth from Deerfield Academy, where he was a member of the Drama

Upsion. He worked for the Dartmouth Players, the Experimental Theater, WDBS, and played freshman soccer. Following graduation, he served with the Army Signal Corps.

From news received recently, we note that SAMUEL ALBERT ADAMS died November 16, 1967 in an apartment house fire in Tokyo, Japan, where he had been studying Japanese history as a basis for an historical novel on which he was working. The Class of 1957 extends its sympathy to Sam's family.

First Lieutenant PETER WHITCOMB MORRISON was killed in Vietnam last June when the B-57 of which he was navigator crashed on an operational mission.

Pete graduated from Dartmouth in 1964 and joined the Air Force. He was selected for Officer Training School by competitive examination. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in December of 1964 and earned his navigator's wings in 1965. Pete had served in Vietnam since 1966.

The crash was reported to have taken place after the plane departed from Phan Rang Air Base.

The Class extends its sympathies to his parents and friends.
