WILLIAM FERGUSON FLANDERS died of a heart attack on October 31, 1983, at his home in Alexandria, Va. Bill had retired in 1980 as an assistant vice president of First Virginia Bank. He had been with First Virginia and one of its predecessors, Mt. Vernon Bank and Trust, for more than 20 years.

A native of Concord, N.H., he came to Dartmouth from Holderness Prep. He entered the Marine Corps upon graduation and was serving as a first lieutenant when he left active duty in 1946. He worked as a salesman with the Page Belting Company in Concord until 1950 and then was a bank examiner with the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston for about five years before going to the Washington, D.C., area in 1956.

He was a trustee of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Annandale, Va.

Bill leaves his wife, Henrietta (Thomson) Flanders, a son, two daughters, and three grandchildren.

LEWIS PATTEE JOHNSON died December 29, 1983, at his home in Weekapaug, R.I., after a brief illness.

"Bud" had moved to Rhode Island in 1981 and established a real estate appraising company after spending 27 years in the real estate and insurance business in Pittsfield, Mass.

Bud came to Dartmouth from Holderness Academy and graduated in 1946. He served three and a half years in the U.S. Army Air Corps, mostly in England, during World War II.

A native of West Hartford, Conn., and son of Harold T. Johnson '14, Bud had been a director of the Massachusetts Association of Insurance Agents, president of the Pittsfield Association of Independent Insurance Agents, a director of the Union Federal Savings and Loan Association in Pittsfield, and president of the Berkshire County, Mass., Dartmouth Alumni Club.

Also, he was a director of the Berkshire Mental Health Association, the Berkshire County Home for Aged Women, and the Girls Club. He had been a vice president of the Pittsfield Country Club and a deacon of the Congregational Church.

He leaves his wife Harriet; two daughters, Helen J. Noland of Newport News, Va.; and Frances Terwilliger of North Palm Beach, Fla.; a son, Lewis E. Johnson of Perugia, Italy; a sister; and six grandchildren.

WARREN PETER SCHLEICHER died December 21, 1983, in Millard Fillmore Suburban Hospital, Buffalo, N.Y. He had been general manager of the Buffalo Club for nine and a half years, and prior to that was manager of the Ocean Reef Club in Key Largo, Fla. He was a member of the Confrerie de la Chaine des Rotisseurs, the Club Managers of America, and the Club York.

After serving War II, he returned as a member of the Dragon Society. He was graduated from Dartmouth in 1949 and joined Anchor Hocking Glass Corporation as an associate in their container sales division.

Warren is survived by his wife Gloria, a daughter Carol, a son Warren G., his brother John '40, and nephew Mark '69. His classmates extend their sympathy to members of his family.

ROBERT GEORGE GRIFFITH died in Brookfield, Wis., of unknown causes on February 26, 1983.

After graduating from high school in Wauwatosa, Wis., Bob attended Northwestern Military and Naval Academy for a year. He then entered the U.S. Army and participated in the drive across France and into Germany as an infantry corporal. He won three battle stars and a purple heart.

At Dartmouth Bob majored in engineering and was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma. He was also an active member of the DOC.

Bob married Margaret Ford in Fargo, N.D., in 1955. He is survived by a daughter, Mary E. Griffith.

On February 4, 1983, FRANCIS ALAN LIVINGSTONE succumbed to cancer after a long illness.

Al arrived in Hanover from Malden, Mass., after 30 months in the U.S. Navy as an aviation cadet. At Dartmouth he majored in chemistry and was a member of Sigma Chi.

Soon after graduating, Al joined Fairbanks, Morse, and Company as a field engineer specializing in pumps and electrical machinery. Within a few years he shifted his activities to sales and by 1965 had moved to Kansas City as national sales manager for Colt Industries, the pump division of Fairbanks, Morse. In 1970 Al joined the Pacific Pumping Company and became vice president of sales; at that time he moved to California and settled down in Huntington Beach.

Al relaxed by playing tennis and sailing. A registered professional mechanical engineer, he was a member of the American Society of Plumbing Engineers and the Water Pollution Control Federation.

In 1950 Al married Mary Jane Greene of Tarrytown, N.Y., who survives him. They had three daughters — Gail, Anne, and Beth.
