

Obituary Edward A. Weisenfeld

Edward A. Weisenfeld died on January 3, 2017 in Rockville, Maryland. He was born on February 29, 1929 and spent his early years in Passaic, New Jersey. Ed graduated from Passaic High School where he was an honor student as well as being on the basketball and tennis teams. He was an active and contributive member of the Dartmouth College class of 1951 for many years and was an avid Dartmouth football and hockey fan. He was predeceased by his wife Betty from Paterson, NJ, whom he married during his senior year at Dartmouth and who was herself involved in class and College activities.

Ed was a member of Pi Lambda Phi fraternity at Dartmouth and went on to receive his MBA degree from the Tuck School of Business in 1952. He and Betty lived in Sachem Village, Dartmouth's quarters for married students, during Ed's last 1 1/2 years at the College.

Following graduation Ed served as a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base before becoming a manager at Equitable Paper Bag Company for 15 years. He then joined J. P. Morgan on Wall Street as a stock broker. He was an early proponent of working from locations away from his Wall Street office; he especially enjoyed the ability to spend many summers in Hanover. He and Betty traveled widely over the years. His Hanover ties and close connections to Dartmouth classmates and friends made him a natural choice whenever an able volunteer was needed for a class project. He served as his class treasurer and as a long-time member of the class's executive committee. Ed was also an active contributor to his home town of Glen Rock, New Jersey. Among other roles he served as member of the town planning board. He loved the outdoors and was an active golfer, tennis player, walker and swimmer. In recent years, as his health declined, he moved from Glen Rock to the Washington, DC area to be near family. Ed is survived by his sister Vivian Gans and her husband Ken, and his brother Carl.
