

IEEE 2017 Frank Rosenblatt Award to Steve Grossberg

The IEEE has awarded Steve Grossberg its Frank Rosenblatt Award for 2017. You probably know that IEEE stands for Institute for Electrical and Electronics Engineers. IEEE is the largest engineering society in the world, with over 500,000 members.

Here is what the award is about:

"for outstanding contributions to the advancement of the design, practice, techniques, or theory in biologically and linguistically motivated computational paradigms, including but not limited to neural networks, connectionist systems, evolutionary computation, fuzzy systems, and hybrid intelligent systems in which these paradigms are contained, with the following citation:

'For contributions to understanding brain cognition and behavior and their emulation by technology.'"
