

Darius Waterhouse Darwin

Died: July 7, 2006

Darius ("Diz") died on Friday, July 7, 2006. He was 68 years old.

He came to Dartmouth from Denver, by way of Lawrenceville School, where he was on the newspaper, the yearbook, the glee club, and in dramatics.

Diz left Dartmouth sometime during or shortly after our freshman year, and — it is reported or rumored — returned to Colorado where he attended the University of Colorado, reunited with a girlfriend, and pledged Phi Gamma Delta. No mention is made of him in the Aegis, of course, but our reunion yearbook reflects a Denver address in 1986 our 25th year out, and a Sarasota address for him in the directory published when we were celebrating our 35th reunion. No other information about him has become available.
