

Matti Arens
6/15/1942-7/16/1976 from the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine

Matti Arens emigrated from Estonia when he was 9 years old. He came to Dartmouth from Bartlett High School in Webster, Massachusetts, where he was on the track team, class president and elected to the National Honors Society. At Dartmouth he was in Army ROTC and a chemistry major. After graduation he worked as a chemist for Industrial Testing Laboratories and the New York City Board of Water Supply. He succumbed to an undisclosed illness on July 16, 1976.
