David Peck
Retired Architect
Retired Director of Facility Planning and Space Management
Boston Children's Hospital

David came to Dartmouth from Mt Greylock Regional High School in Williamstown, Massachusetts. He was in the Glee Club and Injunaires, and was a member of Kappa Kappa Kappa fraternity, graduating Summa Cum Laude with a degree in Art. He attended Yale School of Architecture, graduating with a master's Degree in architecture in 1972. He worked as an architect in Plymouth, Massachusetts and Wiscasset, Maine before joining Boston Children's Hospital in 1982. He first served as the project manager for a $72 million inpatient building and related renovations, and in 1989 became Director of Facility Planning and Space Management. During this time, his office was responsible for the planning, design and construction of multiple buildings at Children's. He retired from Children's in June 2012. Since then, David has been consulting to Children's and other clients on a project basis.

David is active in a variety of Plymouth, Massachusetts community activities, including serving as a Trustee of Pilgrim Hall Museum and chairman of its Properties Committee. In addition, he currently serves on the Town Building Committee (as Chairman), Zoning Board of Appeals (as Vice Chairman) and church Music Committee. He was one of the Founders of the Rising Tide Charter School and a member of the School Committee. He has been active in Dartmouth College alumni affairs since 1973, in multiple roles, most recently as Secretary of the Class of 1968. In February 2006, he won a Dartmouth Alumni Award for distinguished service.

David married Diane Griffiths in 1969, and they have three adult sons, Eben, Matthew and Sam (Dartmouth Class of 2010) and six grandchildren. Diane and David love to travel, and many of the images shown in the Virtual Gallery have been drawn from the photographs from those travels.
