

1977 CLASS NOTES

January – February 2004

Not much to report for the column this month. Everyone must be busy, too busy to send in any good news that has not already been reported in past columns.

It is good to see classmates who are drawing national attention. Received a call from John Bird in early September about an article in the New York Times. John was reading the September 9, 2003 paper and read the conversation with Dr. Katherine Phillips. Katherine is a psychiatrist at Brown Medical School. She started programs to treat people with body image problems. Really fascinating article. Kathy has written a book on the subject "The Broken Mirror" and found treatment programs at both the McLean Hospital near Boston and the Butler Hospital in Providence, where she is a psychiatrist at Brown Medical School.

Talked to Kerry Charles who is back in his hometown in Lake Charles, Louisiana. Since Dartmouth, Kerry has been working in the oil industry. He occasionally talks to Harold Nixon, his freshman roommate.

Washington, DC is an interesting place this time of the year as campaign races are starting to heat up; lots of speculation. If anyone in the Class of 1977 is involved in the national political process, or even local, drop me a line or two for the column.
