

1977 CLASS NOTES

July-August 2006

Captain Charles “Chip” Swicker, USN, has finished his tour as Director of the Command at Sea Department (Surface Warfare), at Newport, R.I. and has taken command of the AEGIS missile cruiser VICKSBURG (CG 69) currently deployed in the Middle East. Chip is a son of Dick “Rit” Swicker, '52.

After 25 years of wholesaling, Jeff McKee retired from Lord, Abbett & Co at the end of last year. His mutual fund/investment firm grew from $3 Billion in 1980 to $102 Billion in 2005. Now, he is off pursuing a new career at Foundation Source. This new company markets turnkey private family foundations with no interest in managing the money. According to Jeff, “It is exciting to not only help families establish legacies but also formalize their charitable giving.” Currently, Foundation Source administers 425 foundations totaling $1.3 billion in assets.

In the March 28th issue of the New York Times, it was announced that Maxwell L. Anderson, former director of the Whitney Museum of American Art, was named the director and chief executive of the Indianapolis Museum of Art. He is to take over in mid-June. Maxwell, who directed the Whitney from 1998 to 2003, is a principal at AEA Consulting of New York and London, a research affiliate at the Center for Arts and Cultural Policy Studies at Princeton University and an op-ed columnist on world art trends for The Art Newspaper. Maxwell began his career at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in 1981 and has previously directed the Art Gallery of Ontario in Toronto and the Michael C. Carlos Museum at Emory University in Atlanta.

Have a great summer!
